The CIP Society – Ontario's Annual Fellows' Reception was held at The National Club in downtown Toronto on February 13. The newest Fellow Chartered Insurance Professional (FCIP) graduates were greeted and recognized as part of a reception featuring good food and good company. Michael Dusenbury, supervisor of underwriting at Gore Mutual Insurance Company, delivered the valedictorian address to graduates and guests. This year, two individuals — Gregory Knowles, vice president of sales & producer management at CNA Canada, and Michael

Moyer, assistant vice president of claims and risk control at HKMB Hub International, received the 2013 Greater Toronto Area Fellow of Distinction Award. The award, recipients of which have achieved their FCIP designations, is presented each year by The CIP Society, a division of The Insurance Institute of Canada, to recognize outstanding achievement in the insurance industry in Toronto. Colleagues nominate insurance professionals, and a nominating review committee makes the final selections of award recipients.
